The Hands-On Volunteer Program provides support for five charities, working within the structure of each organization according to their needs. These activities provide volunteers with the opportunity to be involved on a personal level with different nonprofit groups and a wonderful opportunity to network with each other while serving the community.

CASA ACOGIDA GRADA, NUNOYA
This residential facility provides safety and security in a loving environment for infants and toddlers taken from unsafe home situations (wards of the court). The home serves 40 children from 0-5 years old with the goal of the children being reintegrated into their families or adopted. There are volunteers going almost every day, and they assist with feeding and play with the children.

COLEGIO HELEN KELLER, NUNOYA
This is one of only two schools for the visually impaired in Santiago. It is a public primary school, which also offers educational support for students with multiple disabilities who are unable to proceed on to regular secondary schools. The IAC offers weekly ESL classes at Colegio Helen Keller on Mondays from 5:30 to 6:30pm for students who reside at the school during the week. IAC volunteers also coordinate other activities, including a dental program and an annual ski program for a small group of students.

HOGAR MISIÓN DE MARIA, NUNOYA
This residential facility provides safety and security in a loving environment for infants and toddlers taken from unsafe home situations (wards of the court). The home serves children aged 0-3 years old with the goal of reuniting the children with their biological families, if possible, or placing them with adoptive families. Volunteers assist in two shifts, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon, Monday through Friday. They help the staff in whatever way possible, feeding, changing diapers, bathing, and playing.

CASA ACOGIDA GRADA, NUNOYA
This residential facility provides safety and security in a loving environment for infants and toddlers taken from unsafe home situations (wards of the court). The home serves 40 children from 0-5 years old with the goal of the children being reintegrated into their families or adopted. There are volunteers going almost every day, and they assist with feeding and play with the children.

COLEGIO HELEN KELLER, NUNOYA
This is one of only two schools for the visually impaired in Santiago. It is a public primary school, which also offers educational support for students with multiple disabilities who are unable to proceed on to regular secondary schools. The IAC offers weekly ESL classes at Colegio Helen Keller on Mondays from 5:30 to 6:30pm for students who reside at the school during the week. IAC volunteers also coordinate other activities, including a dental program and an annual ski program for a small group of students.

HOGAR MISIÓN DE MARIA, NUNOYA
This residential facility provides safety and security in a loving environment for infants and toddlers taken from unsafe home situations (wards of the court). The home serves children aged 0-3 years old with the goal of reuniting the children with their biological families, if possible, or placing them with adoptive families. Volunteers assist in two shifts, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon, Monday through Friday. They help the staff in whatever way possible, feeding, changing diapers, bathing, and playing.

MARIA AYUDA HOGAR ONCOLOGICO, NUNOYA
This home offers a place of refuge for children and a parent, while the child is undergoing cancer treatment. The staff offers psychological, social and spiritual support throughout the process. IAC volunteers organize craft parties on a regular basis.

PAZ Y ALEGRIA, BATUCO
This nursing home for the elderly is run by the Sisters of Charity. The home provides medical, social and emotional support for the residents. Volunteers visit the elderly and assist with meals and physical therapy for example.